

Waterslide options:

traditional pool slides and concrete

The most affordable option is a manufactured fiberglass or cast resin slide with a ladder. RicoRock castings with some hand textured areas can completely disguise the slide. No kit is available at present.

Concrete slides are available from experienced rock makers. Although they blend into the rockwork better they are not as safe; there are no standards of construction and they often are too steep or turn too sharply. Maintaining a slippery surface is also a long term problem.

A playground tube slide can be disguised as a simple log or an elaborate tree with a spiral staircase. Available only thru select custom rock makers.
